GeoHorizons

Co-published with the American Geophysical Union

Format Online book series, Open access

GeoHorizons is a new book series published jointly by the American Geophysical Union and the Geological Society. The series focus is on solution-based science that addresses the many challenges facing humanity and the environment, especially those related to climate change and sustainable development. The series is committed to the principles of open science. Volumes will be published Open Access, with hybrid routes to publication available on a case-by-case basis.

Volume 1 is scheduled for publication on the Lyell Collection in 2026.

Read and Publish license agreements

The Society actively encourages open access in scholarly communication. Our Read and Publish license helps to increase your institution's research exposure and allows authors to publish more content in an open access format, leading to wider dissemination and increased potential for downloads and citations.

The Lyell Collection Complete online licence agreement includes read access to 18 sites which comprises 7 actively publishing hybrid journals, one fully open access journal (Earth Science, Systems and Society (ES3)), one fully open access book series (GeoHorizons), 4 active hybrid book series (Special Publications, Engineering Geology Special Publications, Memoirs, and the Energy Geoscience Conference Series) and 5 historic content sites.

The agreement also covers unlimited open access publishing of all article types in the hybrid and fully open access journals and the hybrid and fully open access book series. Authors at institutions who sign up will be able to take advantage of streamlined Open Access publishing where fees have already been included in the agreement with their institution.

The eligible author must be the corresponding author and submit using their institutional affiliation and matching email address. Agreements for 2026 apply to articles with a 2026 submission date.

We are partnered with ChronosHub for open access article processing. ChronosHub streamlines the workflow for institutions for effective APC management and reporting.

A full list of the journals, book series and historic content included in the 2026 agreement is available on the Society site, <https://www.geolsoc.org.uk/OA/>

If you have any questions regarding read and publish agreements please contact us. Email: sales@geolsoc.org.uk

Article publication stages

Accepted manuscripts are posted online within 2 weeks of acceptance to facilitate early access to research and citation for authors and researchers. Digital article identifiers (DOIs) are published for accepted manuscripts and registered with CrossRef allowing permanent resolution to the final version of record when it is published.

The version of record is the typeset article that appears online before the final volume or issue is complete. These articles are in their final PDF format apart from final volume pagination, i.e., they have been accepted for publication, copyedited, typeset, proofed, and corrected.

The final version includes final pagination when the issue/volume is completed.

Access entitlements for institutional subscribers with a current subscription:

Lyell Collection Complete[†] subscribers can view the full text of all articles and accepted manuscripts in the journals and book series on the Lyell Collection. This excludes access to a small number of 18 eBooks. [◇]

Special Publications[‡] annual subscribers can view the full text of all published Special Publication volumes (excluding 1 eBook [◇]) plus volumes in progress at <https://www.lyellcollection.org/sp/in-progress>

Subscribers to individual journals can view the full text of all articles and accepted manuscripts in the relevant journal.

Perpetual access not available to accepted manuscripts, it is only available to articles published in a completed volume or issue within the subscribed-to calendar year.

All articles, eBooks and accepted manuscripts are available for purchase using pay-per-view. Please see <https://www.geolsoc.org.uk/ppv> for details of short-term access options.

Online Archives: Special Publications

The Geological Society of London Special Publications are renowned throughout the global geoscience community for their high quality of science and production. Each volume focuses on a specific theme and represents a balanced, state-of-the-art treatment of the subject matter. The first was published in 1964 as a supplement to the Quarterly Journal of the Geological Society (the precursor to the Journal of the Geological Society) and was retrospectively numbered as a Special Publication. The series gained its current clear identity in 1981.

Special Publications form a major part of the Lyell Collection, the Geological Society's online collection of all key content published since 1845. Abstracts, PDF and references have been captured up to and including volume 277, with later volumes also including full text HTML.

Purchase Special Publication archives outright for a one-off fee allowing perpetual access. There is no annual maintenance charge.

More information and a download of the Special Publication titles in the various archives is available from www.geolsoc.org.uk/online-archives/

MARC records and KBART files are included in the WorldCat® knowledge base to aid discoverability. Files can be downloaded from <https://www.geolsoc.org.uk/marcrecords>

Online Archives: Journal of the Geological Society

Journal of the Geological Society (JGS) publishes topical, high-quality recent research across the full range of Earth Sciences. Papers are interdisciplinary in nature and emphasize the development of an understanding of fundamental geological processes. The journal includes broad interest articles that refer to regional studies, but which extend beyond their geographical context.

The JGS Archive (1845-2007) includes over 17,000 articles and comprises over 150 years of geoscience research, including historically important content from many eminent scientists. Access the very earliest geological research from the greats such as Darwin, Murchison, and Buckland to modern cutting-edge research from an international field of authors. The Quarterly Journal of the Geological Society (1845 to 1970) was re-named the Journal of the Geological Society in 1971.

The JGS archives are hosted on the Geological Society's Lyell Collection, and there is no annual maintenance charge.

Content URL: <https://www.lyellcollection.org/journal/jgs>

More information: <https://www.geolsoc.org.uk/online-archives/>

JGS 1845 to 2007 content is available as one archive purchase or in three individual archives.

JGS 2008 to 2012 content is available as a separate archive.

	Years of content	Price
JGS Archive 1845-2007	1845 - 2007	£ 20,567	US$ 41,134

Special Publications

Special Publications are renowned for their high quality of science and production. Each volume focuses on a specific theme and represents a balanced, state-of-the-art treatment of the subject matter. The Society publishes 7 to 18 volumes each year.

<https://www.lyellcollection.org/book/sp>

Content available as part of the Lyell Collection Complete or Special Publications annual subscriptions.

Engineering Geology Special Publications

This successful series is devoted to the wide range of engineering geology and geotechnical topics: each volume provides balanced coverage of its subject. Two new volumes published in 2025.

<https://www.lyellcollection.org/book/egsp>

Content available as part of the Lyell Collection Complete or Engineering Geoscience Package annual subscriptions.

Memoirs

Memoirs are definitive treatments of their subjects by acknowledged experts. They may be edited collections of papers or can be written by a single group of authors.

<https://www.lyellcollection.org/book/mem>

Energy Geoscience Conference series

The Energy Geoscience Conference series comprises a sequence of edited and peer-reviewed volumes arising from the EGC conferences. Oriented towards the energy transition, volumes explore understanding, technologies, lessons learned and subsurface insights across the full sphere of energy geoscience. Articles in the first volume, Powering the Energy Transition through Subsurface Collaboration, are published as they become available ("in-progress").

<https://www.lyellcollection.org/book/egc>

Petroleum Geology Conference Series

The fully edited and peer-reviewed Proceedings of the 4th to 8th conferences in this prestigious series are hosted on the Lyell Collection.
